New Proposal In Pittsburgh Power Strike

Power Paralyzed City Has Hopes Of Early End Of Paralyzing Strike

UNION SUBMITS NEW PROPOSAL

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 7.—(INS)—Power paralyzed Pittsburgh pinned its hopes today for settlement of the two weeks' old utility strike on a new proposal made by leaders of the Duquesne Light Company's Independent Union.

Union President George Mueller said he wanted company officials to "look it over" before details are disclosed.

The move to end the negotiations deadlock was made through federal labor conciliators who immediately scheduled meetings with both company and union representatives for tomorrow afternoon.

Urge Arbitration
Irate citizens at a mass meeting earlier urged that the union take a new vote on arbitration to end the strike that has had a stranglehold on this steel capital 14 days. Edward Wambier, department store executive and spokesman for the group, said the group ignored any plan for federal arbitration.

Mueller scoffed at reports of growing strength in the rebellion of his utility workers who joined John L. Lewis' AFL District 50, adding: "Of all the union in the United States, District 50 has the least chance of organizing the utility workers. I have made a check and the workers are still solidly behind me."

The uprising within the union came when 700 production, maintenance and shop workers withdrew from the Independent Union because "Mueller refused to make a move to end the walkout."

Claim 1500 Members
The revolt leaders, now claiming 1,500 members in their organization, have filed a petition with the National Labor Relations Board.

Hawaii To Egypt Flight Forecasts Defense Problems

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The spectacular success of the trans-polar B-29 Superfortress flight from Hawaii to Egypt presented Washington's top military planners with new national defense problems today.

Plans for protection of the Arctic and constant surveillance over polar regions were expected to be foremost in the minds of senior armed forces leaders as a result of the record-smashing "over the top" flight.

Sen. Connally Assails Soviet Trieste Claims

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 7.—Sen. Tom Connally told the plenary session of the Paris peace conference today that arguments by the Soviet bloc against United States proposals to resolve the Trieste problem are "pure sophistry."

The veteran Texas legislator said: "It is pure sophistry to assume that the Security Council would lend itself to any power or group of powers to establish a military base at Trieste... but the government must be amply backed by the integrity of the free territory. This cannot be done by pronouncement alone."

Consider Italian Treaty
Connally's remarks came as the plenary met to consider the Italian peace treaty, on which it will spend three days.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was the presiding officer as the plenary session got underway. Agreement was reached to limit consideration of the entire lengthy Italian treaty to three days. The conferees will have only one day to consider the treaties drafted with the four other former axis satellite nations, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

Conferees spent the rest of the time Sunday conferring with their own delegations after disposing of the procedural matters in the plenary session.

Important talks were engaged in by British delegates under leadership of Bevin.

The British foreign secretary discussed with Dominion leaders such vital problems as Trieste, the Mediterranean and the Dardanelles.

Informed quarters said that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, now in Moscow for vital Kremlin talks, may return to Paris with a new compromise offer on the ticklish Trieste problem.

Not Only Suicides But Injures Seven

New York Man Killed By Gas
Explosion As He Attempts
To Suicide

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(INS)—A man attempting suicide was killed today and seven other persons injured in an explosion which ripped through a fifth floor apartment of the 19-story building at 304 West 75th street.

Police believe the man had attempted to take his own life by inhaling gas, which in some manner was exploded, probably by the pilot light of the kitchen range or a spark from the door bell.

The identity of the dead man was not learned immediately. The blast rattled windows for blocks around.

Ellwood Families Move To Provo, Utah

Husbands Transferred From Shelby
Tube To New U. S. Geneva
Steel Plant

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shaffer of Ellwood City, formerly of this city, left Ellwood at noon today in company with three other Ellwood families for American Port, Utah.

The husbands have been transferred from the Shelby Tube company plant at Ellwood to the new U. S. Geneva Steel plant at Provo, Utah, 30 miles from Salt Lake City.

A large moving van is taking their furniture and belongings, and expect to arrive there in about five days. The group will establish their homes in Provo, where they have purchased homes. Mr. Shaffer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jennie Shaffer of 813 Butler avenue.

Execution Hour Set For Doomed Nazi Leaders

Allied Control Council Sets
Time For Hangings—Decision Kept Secret

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 7.—The Allied Control Council today set the day and the hour for the execution of Nazis condemned to death by the international war crimes tribunal.

This information indicated that most, if not all, of the appeals by 11 of the 12 condemned men in custody, likely have been rejected. The day and the hour at which the top ranking Nazis will die remains a top secret, but immediate indications were that the condemned men are likely to have at least a couple of days more of life.

Individual Hangings
It was learned also by International News Service that present plans call for hanging the condemned men individually.

Former Reichsmarshal Hermann Goerring, the top-ranking chief of the Luftwaffe and considered chief defendant at Nuernberg trial, was understood to be the first scheduled to go.

This would mean that the execution procedure may last as long as five hours.

Reports circulated in Nuernberg, meanwhile, that the seven leading

Senator Taft Assails Hanging Decree For Nazis

(BULLETIN)

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Senator Robert A. Taft declared today that American leaders are equally as liable to death sentences for making war as are Germans and Japs.

The Ohio Republican's declaration was made in a news conference in Detroit in which he amplified his Saturday speech deploring the Nuernberg death sentences.

He said: "The 11 who have been committed to the gallows have been held guilty of making aggressive war. They are guilty because they lost."

"Under that theory, President Roosevelt could have been executed had the Axis won. Other American and Allied leaders could have been sentenced to death."

"The hanging of these 11 will be a blot on the American record which we shall long regret."

Senator Taft is in Detroit to address the Wayne County Medical society tonight.

Secretary Hull Is Reported Improved

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—An official announcement said today that former secretary of state, Cordell Hull, "appears to be out of any immediate danger."

The bulletin, issued by the Navy department, was the most optimistic since the war time secretary of state entered Naval hospital last week after being stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage.

The announcement said: "Mr. Hull has continued to show improvement. He rested well last night and appears to be out of any immediate danger."

Hull's condition was reported to be critical when he first entered the hospital. Later in the week he began to show improvement. The "father of the United Nations" continued to rally over the weekend making a determined fight, characteristic of his temperament, to regain his health.

Jackson To Pay Visit To Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson will pay a call on President Truman late this afternoon.

Jackson, who was chief prosecutor at the Nuernberg trials, retired to Washington several days ago after the top Nazi war criminals were sentenced.

The jurist has not conferred with the President since his return, and it was assumed that he was coming to the White House to tell the President about the verdicts.

Can Turn Night Into Day

An expert on atmospheric physics at Sorbonne University, Paris, France, Prof. Etienne Vasey, 37, is pictured with his wife in their laboratory where they recently announced that they had discovered a formula for turning night into day. It involves radio transmission of optical waves, directed at luminous strata in the sky. He says they can capture enough light from the sky to read without lamps, drive without headlights and work without artificial illumination.

United Nations Goal Seems Far Distant

By GEORGE DURNO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 7.—A most determined effort was being made today by diplomats both in New York and Paris to create a single world-wide peace, as against two worlds divided and ready for war.

At the moment, with the United Nations general assembly due to convene on Oct. 23 at Flushing Meadows, N. Y., prospects for achievement of this utopian goal were not overly bright.

Failure to negotiate the European peace treaties in Paris; complete disagreement to date over control of atomic energy as a lethal weapon; inability to get to first base in the matter of setting up an international police force—all combined to present a rather dismal picture.

President Truman, Premier Stalin and Bevin, State Secretaries Byrnes and Molotov, all have made statements of peaceful assurance.

Forensic Battle
Yet on every diplomatic front, the same forensic battle prevailed. It was the United States and Great Britain versus Soviet Russia.

At Lake Success, where the two

Five Sets Of Twins At Jameson Hospital

With the arrival of twin girls to Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Evans of 312 Leasure avenue on Saturday, the twin population at the Jameson Memorial hospital has been raised to five sets, three of which have been born this month.

In the number are two sets of twin boys and two sets of twin girls, and, of course, the boy and girl twins of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Chambers, who are still at the hospital and doing very nicely after a precarious start in life which kept them in an incubator for a long time. They have been at the hospital a month now.

Three sets of twins have been born so far this month. They are the Gilchrist twins, girls, born on October 4, and the Glenn twins, boys, born on October 1. Also still at the hospital are the Montgomery twins, born September 16.

Man Injured In Automobile Crash

Edgar William Perdue of R. D. 1, Ellwood City, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital in a semi-conscious condition at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, suffering from head injuries sustained when his car struck a culvert on the Ellwood road, four miles east of New Castle.

Perdue stated that he had a car pulled out from the side of the road, causing him to strike the culvert and throwing him against the windshield. Examination at the hospital revealed no fracture of the skull.

Herbert Saxton Sr. Improving Nicely

Herbert Saxton, Sr., of 632 John street, is improving nicely. Mr. Saxton suffered head injuries on September 19, while painting street light fixtures in Connoquenessing.

Herb was at work on a ladder scaffolding when he was contacted with a voltage of 4,600, which put him unconscious for a period.

Rift Among Allies On Nazi Trials Is Reported Widened

By LOWELL BENNETT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 7.—The rift among the Allies over the question of trying the masters of Nazi economic disclosure that the Russian and French delegation intend to prosecute the industrialists.

The Russo-Franco groups intend to proceed with the trials with or without Anglo-American support, it was revealed.

Some quarters said that if President Truman, to whom a report of the trial verdicts was sent, decides that the acquittal of financier Hjalmar Schacht is a virtual exoneration.

R. Stadelhofer Taken By Death

Widely Known Retired Business Man Dies At Home
On Highland Avenue

FUNERAL SERVICE
WEDNESDAY 2 P. M.

Rudolph Stadelhofer, of 1304 Highland avenue, well known and long time resident of New Castle, retired business executive of many years service, died at his home on Sunday evening at 10 o'clock, after an illness of some time. He was 79 years of age.

Mr. Stadelhofer was well known as manager of the local branch of Armour and company, a position from which he retired in 1935, after 34 years service. He was also associated with the company in Youngstown, Ohio, previously and served 45 years with the company.

The deceased was a charter member of the New Castle Rotary club, the Elks and Western Star No. 21 of the Masonic Order, Youngstown. He was also a member of the Highland avenue United Presbyterian church. He was active in New Castle civic affairs for many years.

Mr. Stadelhofer, who was born on March 10, 1867, is survived by his wife, Clara, Schrodler Stadelhofer, to whom he had been married 54 years. Also surviving are three daughters, Mrs. John M. Leonard, Piqua, O., Mrs. Clyde M. Whittaker, New Castle, and Mrs. Fulton R. Magill, of Pittsburgh. There are also three grandchildren, Robert Leonard, of Piqua, O., and Richard and Elizabeth Whittaker, of this city.

Funeral service will be at the Leyde mortuary, Wednesday, October 9, at 2 p. m. Burial will take place at the Oak Hill cemetery, Youngstown.

The family will receive friends Tuesday evening, from 7 to 9, at the funeral home.

Infant Swallows Bolt; In Hospital

No Operation Necessary For Sandy
Morgan Now Patient In New Castle Hospital

In some manner, little Sandy Morgan, seven months old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan, 317 South Mercer street, swallowed a bolt from a stove, Saturday around 6 p. m., while at home, and the object was removed from his esophagus later, when he was rushed to the New Castle Hospital.

Fortunately the object did not travel far down the esophagus, and retrieving of the bolt was made possible with the proper instruments.

Hospital authorities report the infant's condition as resting comfortably following the close call.

Harriman Takes Oath As Secretary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—W. Averell Harriman was sworn in today as secretary of commerce to fill the cabinet post vacated by the dismissal of Henry A. Wallace.

Chief Justice Carl Vinson administered the oath to Harriman before an audience that included Mrs. Harriman, six members of the cabinet, White House officials and other government representatives.

BURGLAR'S LOOT INCLUDES MEAT

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The meat situation being what it is today, thieves in Philadelphia apparently are interested in more than just money and jewelry as loot.

At any rate, a burglar who looted homes in nearby Jenkintown and Springfield township gathered up: Cash, $245; furs worth about $4,200; jewelry worth about $4,000; plus two legs of lamb, four pounds of hamburger and a chicken.

Florida Braces For Onslaught Of Tropical Storm

Severe Hurricane Reported
As Roaring Toward
Florida Mainland
Today

PREPARATIONS FOR RELIEF ARE RUSHED

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The New York weather bureau said at 10 a. m. today that the tropical hurricane is now centering about 103 miles west, southwest of Key West, Fla., and is sweeping north or northeast at 15 to 18 miles an hour.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 7.—(INS)—Hurricane warnings were extended northward along the Florida West Coast to Cedar Keys today and northeast storm warnings were hoisted as far north as Apalachicola as a severe tropical hurricane roared toward the Florida mainland.

Driving winds of more than 100 miles an hour accompanied the storm, which is moving slowly northward at about 15 miles per hour.

Storm warnings were also posted along the Florida East Coast north to Fernandina.

To Hit Near Fort Myers
The Miami weather bureau said in its 7:30 a. m. (EST) advisory that the hurricane will strike the peninsula state's west coast between Fort Myers and Tampa about midnight and will sweep in a northerly direction through the state.

Dangerous winds and high tides were forecast for all sections of Florida.

The storm was last reported 140 miles southwest of Key West, at the tip of the Florida Keys.

Key West felt winds up to 50 miles an hour early today and gusts of gale force were reported by vessels as far north as Fort Myers.

Lashing gales extend outward 200 miles from the hurricane's center. Hurricane warnings are now dis-

Key West Makes Ready For Storm

Emergency Shelters Opened
In Island City As Hurricane Approaches

(BULLETIN)

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 7.—(INS)—Red Cross and navy officials in Key West today opened emergency shelters throughout the island city as one of the chief precautionary measures against a tropical hurricane that was bearing down from the Florida Keys.

The navy's shelters were thrown open at 6 a. m. to receive families of naval personnel stationed at the Key West navy base and the nearby Boca Chica air station.

Five additional shelters, staffed by Red Cross workers, began taking in civilians.

Weather Many Storms
Most of the city's residents, however, having weathered many a storm before, remained in their homes.

Fifty mile-an-hour winds were reported in Key West this morning. The grocery stores that opened reported a rush for canned goods, bread and candies.

Large navy vessels based at Key West put out to sea early today to ride out the storm.

Now, there is no town called Mudville, or at least one that I know, and although there is a Mudville, I have no desire to go. But I'm thinking now of Casey, who was mighty at the bat, who had a chance to win the game and then went very flat. For St. Louis will be Mudville if the Cards can't break away, and there'll be no joy in Mudville, and it's 73 today.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Fire prevention week is being generally observed in the nation during the current week. Stress is being laid on means of preventing fire in city and county.

Four weeks from tomorrow, Tuesday, November 5, will be general election day in Pennsylvania and other states. In Pennsylvania state and national officials to be elected.

Some sections of the county can boast of "frost on the pumpkin", while other sections are awaiting their momentarily. A trip through the rural areas on Sunday revealed some corn fields in a very browned out condition while other fields still remain green.

Motorists were evidently taking advantage of the good weather over the week-end by taking one of the last lengthy motor trips of the season before inclement weather sets in. Sunday evening, an unprecedented number of automobiles traveled the East Side area, with one solid line of traffic from the downtown section of the city extending to Florence avenue on East Washington street.

Nights of October 8, 9 and 10 are designated as those in which a most spectacular display of shooting stars is possible. According to the American Meteor Society, the display will be the most spectacular since 1872.

If Carmela Russ of 316 Vine street had planted her cotton seeds just a few weeks earlier, she perhaps would have had enough of the fluffy white substance to spin into a dress or a shirt. Mrs. Russ brought into The News this morning, four stalks of

Six Ways World Can Come To End

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Arthur L. Draper is a mild-mannered, gentle-looking fellow.

But there are times when Mr. Draper can scare the daylight out of the coolest person.

He's the director of Pittsburgh's famous Buhl Planetarium and right now he's explaining to visitors at his establishment the possible ways the world might come to an end.

His world-ending possibilities are frightening indeed. Listen to Mr. Draper:

1. A collision between the sun and a star.
2. A collision between the earth and the moon.
3. A collision between the earth and the tail of a comet.
4. An eruption of the sun.
5. The possibility of the sun burning out.
6. A gigantic volcano on the earth's surface.

Accordingly, Mr. Draper predicts, we'll either freeze to death, burn alive or die in some other fantastic manner.

He believes, however, that scientists will be able to give a little warning on a possible collision between two heavenly bodies. For example, he pointed out that on Oct. 9 the earth will move into a space occupied only eight days earlier by the comet Giacobini-Zinner.

"That's cutting things pretty thin," Mr. Draper declared.

EXECUTION HOUR SET FOR DOOMED NAZI LEADERS

Nazis condemned to imprisonment will be taken away from Nuernberg at almost any time aboard an armored railway coach.

Comment Forbidden

Accounts reported in tribunal circles said that the coach will be hooked on to a specially scheduled non-stop Nuernberg-to-Berlin train which is to be heavily guarded by constabulary men and troops.

Tribunal officials declared that the Allied control council has forbidden them to comment on this report.

Speculation also was current and the Russians may demand the privilege of executing some of the condemned men in their zone of occupation. Little credence was given to this, however, in official circles.

It's a Dr. Hess product and it's called Anturat.

It's ideal for farm use because it's not dangerous to poultry, livestock, or pets if properly used.

It's more effective than squill against the Norway or common brown rat.

It's tasteless—the rats can't detect it in feed or other baits. It can be used as a tracking poison—rats walk in it, lick their feet, and die.

Kill costly and dangerous rats now with Anturat—we have Anturat in stock.

ed anew the army air forces belief that future assaults against the United States would strike across the Arctic.

Similarly, success of the Pacusan Dreamboat flight over more than 10,000 miles of tropical, Arctic and European territory was believed to have "completely justified" the announced AAF policy of maintaining its strategic bombardment mission within the continental borders of this nation.

In New York, Gen. George C. Kenney, chief of the U. S. strategic air command, issued a statement warning that the Dreamboat mission is only a preview of "things to come" in the Arctic.

The leader of America's long-range bomber and fighter strength said:

"The United States has lost two great geographical allies. It has lost the Atlantic and the Pacific. "War, should it ever come again, will not come over or across oceans as it has done in the past. "It will come 'over the top'—the trans-polar route."

Plan Major Arctic Bases

Kenney's statement was an indication of military thinking in Washington as the capital was again the communications city for important record-breaking international flights. Last week the navy's Neptune patrol bomber streaked 11,236 miles from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, O., to set a new non-stop mark.

Early in September it was learned that the AAF planned to build and maintain major Arctic bases for future national defense.

However, the air assault force scheduled the bulk of its strength for assembling, maintenance and training in the southwestern regions of the U. S.

This, according to air leaders, was ordered to protect American airpower from any repetition of the Philippines or Pearl Harbor.

The flight of Col. C. S. Irvine and his Dreamboat crew across the Arctic Wastes from Honolulu to Cairo was expected to focus attention of the extreme vulnerability of not only the U. S. but all nations and all possessions to aerial destruction.

No Change Yet

Time has been running on since Stalin made his "no war" statement and so far there has been no tangible evidence to indicate any change in Russian foreign policy. On the contrary, Moscow has been increasing the pressure behind its purposes.

The news from Paris certainly has not revealed any tendency on the part of the Russians to make concessions. It is true that the peace conference has been proceeding more rapidly but for the most part it is merely recording disagreements instead of resolving the issues before it. Indeed, the attitude of Yugoslavia on the Trieste question, which can be regarded as a reliable barometer of the Soviet attitude, has stiffened it anything.

Meanwhile the agencies of the United Nations, discussing various problems connected with European peace in the sessions they have been holding at Lake Success, have made no progress. The Russians are opposed to the majority on the economic and social council on the means to be used in restoring the European economy. They do not like the proposed constitution of the international refugee organization. It seems a safe prediction that they will resort to their usual obstructive tactics on the political committee of the atomic energy commission which has now begun work.

So there has been no perceptible change in the Russian attitude during the last week. In fact, the latest Soviet note on Turkey was even more brusque in demanding a share of the defense of the Dardanelles than the earlier one. The Kremlin is as insistent as ever, all along the line, that Russian views must prevail. To date the Stalin statement appears to have been nothing more than an attempt to capitalize on the Wallace affair by throwing out a few soft words.

When Night Is Done

Thomas Moore said that the best of all ways to lengthen the days is to steal a few hours from the night. This will be impossible if and when Prof. Etienne Vassy of the Sorbonne succeeds in turning night into day. There will be a myriad of other difficulties.

It may be necessary to call Henry Wallace, who once proposed 60 million jobs, back into government service to create day jobs for the unemployed. Think of the burglars who will be out of work under the moonlight-saving plan. What will become of the all-night lunchroom? Of night baseball? Of night watchmen? There will be no night clubs.

The carrot-growing industry will be ruined; people will not need vitamin A in order to see at night once night has been abolished. Radio stations will be face to face with the necessity of rearranging their programs, because householders, ordinarily at home in the evening, will be out on the golf courses and tennis courts. Urban dwellers will have to go to rural areas, where night will not yet have been abolished, in order to view pyrotechnical displays.

What will be the effect of night-abolition on the theater? Will novelists who now do their best writing at night proceed to turn out shoddy in the daytime? How will the names of famous books, plays and movies sound? What, for instance, will people of the future think of such titles as The Arabian Nights, Out of the Night, Night Must Fall, The Night Cometh, Midsummer Night's Dream, Ten Nights in a Barroom? The reading of anything written before 1947 will sound like something out of this world.

Think of what might happen in the zoological and ornithological worlds. At present cats can see in the dark, and as every schoolboy knows, that ability of the feline species helps to eradicate rats and mice. But if night is abolished, the cat's ability to see at night will gradually atrophy. Then suppose an atomic war comes along and night-abolition plants are destroyed. Cats no longer able to see at night will be sneered at by rats and mice. But during the years when there is no night, towns and villages will be strange places. Nightingales and whippoorwills will not be heard. Owls may not give a hoot.

WSB's Future

President Truman's statement that the Wage Stabilization Board "will continue to administer the wage stabilization program" sounds like whistling in the dark, considering the damage done to that program by the shipping strike. It is nevertheless significant, for it means that the administration still hopes to keep some type of control over wages.

But the statement must be placed against its background. First it was announced that the advisory board of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion would undertake a study of the wage stabilization program. This move was taken to mean, in some quarters, that the board was on the way out. The President's obvious purpose was to deny that there is any basis for such speculation.

All the same, it is clear that the wage stabilization program has suffered a body blow. If the board is to be retained it will have to be subjected to some kind of surgery to repair its lost prestige. Otherwise it will be subject to the suspicion that it will be by-passed again as soon as labor exerts the necessary pressure. Consequently it is certain that the pressure would be forthcoming unless measures are taken to discourage it.

What these measures will be remains to be seen. But it is clear that the President hopes to keep the appearance of wage stabilization. What he seeks is a formula that will appear like wage stabilization to the public and like no wage stabilization to union leaders.

A party of "selected beauties" met at Atlantic City recently in a contest to pick the most beautiful of our 60,000,000 American women. And 59,999,999 women can be expected to disagree with the verdict of the judges.

Scandinavians Are

Doubtful About U. N.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 7.—On October 20, representatives of the three Scandinavian countries will board a plane of the new Scandinavian airlines system to attend the United Nations general assembly session in New York.

It is a measure of what has happened during the past six months that they will leave with something less than enthusiasm. The attitude toward the United Nations here in the north is one of troubled doubt in which a little hope still lingers. Along with Europeans everywhere, the Scandinavians are listening to the savage political debate between the USA and the USSR with profound misgivings. This is coupled with a kind of unspoken resentment at being forced to choose sides in a struggle which seems certain to end in doom for all concerned.

To Stand Together
There is a strong compulsion in the three countries, although it is by no means unanimous, to stand together as a Scandinavian bloc. Working against unity is the fact that Norway and Denmark endured the scarring ordeal of German occupation while the Swedes escaped unscathed and were even able to do certain types of construction which gives them a lead in competition for world trade.

It is not easy to forgive your neighbor both good luck and good management, particularly if he tends to congratulate himself on his good fortune. The Norwegians and the Danes suffered deeply under the years of Nazi oppression, although the scars are not so obvious since the physical destruction in the cities was so much less than that in the rest of Europe.

The scars are in part psychological. During the war, one of the most effective forms of Danish sabotage was the slow-down. The clever Danes mastered the technique of delay and distraction. Now it's hard to get back to constructive effort, and the carry-over of the slow-down into peace is one reason for the manifold difficulties of reconstruction.

Recovering Perspective
There is evidence that the Danish people are recovering their perspective. An unfavorable trade balance with Great Britain restricts imports and is one reason why Denmark exports food to England at a price considerably under that which could be obtained on the world market. Yet when the British sent eight tons of roller skates to a country needing almost everything—the Danes laughed long and loud.

The newspapers here for some time been making jokes about those roller skates. Every patriotic Dane must prove that he can rollerskate in his country's hour of need, said one editorial.

Even the passing visitor detects currents of sanity that lead away from frustrations of the past. A group of younger men and women, most of them out of the resistance movement, have taken one of the underground newspapers, Information, and have made of it a focus for those who believe Europe can escape the old political dogmatism, vigorously they challenge the isms that seem to predetermine past, present and future.

The paper Information is an exciting intellectual adventure from both the news and editorial point of view. It hits hard and fearlessly at current evils, yet it is not destructive in tone.

Glimmer of Hope
In its forthrightness, it resembles the Stockholm Daily News which, under a new editor, has shown a similar boldness in cutting through current political dogmas. A professor of political economy before he was made editor of Stockholm's largest newspaper, Herbert Tingsten has shown that it is possible to think courageously and freely in a time when inertia and despair seem to persuade the average man that the only way out lies in political assassination.

From various random reports, you get a glimmer of hope that possibly similar forces exist in many parts of Europe. There are signs that they exist even in France where, on the surface, the political absolutes appear to be so final.

It is just here, it seems to me, that our position before the world is weak. We may stand for principle. We may stand for democracy for free elections, for self-determination. Our friends in Europe—and they are more numerous than one would sometimes gather—agree. But they are aware that too often what we say has a sterile, negative sound when it is uttered in the vacuum of Europe today and when it is measured against our own confused and uncertain performance.

Moreover, let no one discount the force of Soviet propaganda. The Soviet theme in Europe is that "reactionary elements" in the USA are now dominant and seek to destroy the "progressive" force of the USSR. This tends to underscore the negative aspects of American policy.

The danger in this is great. We should not delude ourselves. If we force a show-down, we cannot be sure that those who now are our friends will declare themselves on our side.

As To Mr. Wallace's 'I Am An Honest Man'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.
ASKED by a reporter after his final conference with President Truman why he had decided to "keep quiet" on foreign policy, the toothily grinning Mr. Wallace replied "because I am an honest man." Undoubtedly, Mr. Wallace thinks he is an honest man and certainly no one believes he would steal or graft or be anything else rightly honest in a money transaction. As to that he is above suspicion.

BUT that isn't the kind of honesty Mr. Wallace asserted. Clearly, what he was claiming was intellectual honesty; the honesty that involves character, courage and self-respect. That is the kind of honesty Mr. Wallace professed and which caused his friends in the past to insist so vehemently that he is a man of character and sincerity. So persistently have they harped upon these qualities that they appeared to put him upon a pinnacle high above all other public men, from which his character and sincerity shine with uncommon brightness.

IT now seems entirely proper to ask how his own assertion of honesty and the great emphasis laid by his friends upon the nobility of his soul look in the light of Mr. B. M. Baruch's revelation of his refusal, until forced to admit his gross misrepresentation of the facts concerning the American proposal for the control of atomic energy and his refusal, until forced to correct these misrepresentations after he had admitted them.

NO more convincing indictment than that by Mr. Baruch of Mr. Wallace has been made in a long time. It is particularly impressive because Mr. Baruch is not a man given to wrath or emotional denunciation. He has long disciplined himself against anger. He has a settled policy of not permitting anybody anytime to make him mad. And it is not in anger that he indicts Mr. Wallace but because the misrepresentation were so gross and the consequences of not correcting them so grave that he could not remain silent.

THOUGH he has in the past had considerable provocation, this is the first time in his life Mr. Baruch has ever engaged in a public controversy. Knowledge not only of the serious damage to a vital issue which Mr. Wallace's uncorrected misrepresentations might cause but the further fact that his radical friends were preparing to reprint and circulate a millions copies of the Wallace letter in which they were made, left Mr. Baruch and his associates on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission no alternative.

THEY HAD to expose Mr. Wallace's efforts to evade a straightforward admission of his fault or risk real injury to a cause in which he involved the whole future of civilization. The Wallace letter, through ignorance, had distorted the facts, assailed the American position and sustained the Russians at an extremely delicate and difficult stage in the negotiations. It is hard to see more mischievous possibilities than were thus opened up.

THAT more harm has not been done is not Mr. Wallace's fault. It is due to the speed and thoroughness with which Mr. Baruch has acted to vaccinate against the results of an irresponsible, inaccurate and unjustified attack. Whatever form Mr. Wallace's reply to Mr. Baruch's exposure now takes it cannot wipe out the fundamental facts of this incident to wit: (1) That he ignorantly misrepresented the facts; (2) that when apprised of this he admitted his errors and agreed to a statement correcting them; (3) that he then avoided signing the statement and went back on his agreement; (4) that apparently he would have done nothing at all in the way of correction if he had not been forced; (5) that his friends were preparing to give further wide circulation to the misrepresentation.

IT is pertinent to ask how these facts can be reconciled with Mr. Wallace's declaration that "I am an honest man" and who would have the consistency of his friends upon his noble character. Most men find no need publicly to proclaim their honesty. There would seem a special obligation upon those who do live up to the highest standards. Most men who inadvertently and publicly misrepresent the facts do not have to be forced to make a public correction. There have been certain other incidents in Mr. Wallace's career not too easy to fit in with those sincerity and character claims. But this one is the most glaring.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS AGAIN
It is highly comforting to learn that elections to Rhodes scholarships will be resumed this year for all states of the Union. These elections have been suspended since 1939, and in general crashing of things since then no one would have been surprised to hear that they had been abandoned.

Not only are they not being abandoned, but an effort is being made to atone to some extent for the time that has been lost. Thirty-two scholarships used to be granted to this country in a year, but now for two years the number will be 48.

There is also an effort to compensate for the years the war has taken from those who would have been eligible during the suspension. Age limits are stretched for men who have seen military service.

In setting up the scholarships Cecil Rhodes gave the United States and the individuals fortunate enough to receive the scholarships a rare opportunity. Two years at Oxford with a third year on a university anywhere in the world but the student's own country.

IF THE SITUATION IN WORLD POLITICS WOULD IMPROVE, THE TROLLEY SERVICE WOULD IMPROVE ALSO

The World and the Mud Puddles

WE DO NOT WANT THEM

A tragic aftermath of the Nazi war of conquest is the millions of "displaced" persons in Europe. Under the ruthless Hitler practices the peoples of conquered nations were driven from their homes into other regions, vast numbers of them being shipped to Germany for slave labor. When Poland was invaded by the Nazis, for example, not only Jews but hundreds of thousands of others were expelled from their homes. In all the Axis victim countries there were shifting of populations to suit military exigencies. Aside from the wholesale displacement of the Nazis, there have been other millions displaced by Russia, and the shifting of boundaries has likewise displaced a vast number of people in countries occupied by the Allies.

The just and rational thing, of course, would be to "replace" these millions of persons who have been displaced by the war. But the task, for various reasons, is insuperable. In Lithuania, for example, thousands of citizens voluntarily exiled themselves from their homeland because they cannot endure the rule of the Russians who have taken over the control of the country. Ever since the end of the war in Europe some one hundred thirty thousand Polish soldiers who fought valiantly with the Allied troops in the African and Italian campaigns, have been quartered in Italy. They refuse to return to Poland, because they are well aware that under some pretext or other they will be "liquidated" by a Russian controlled puppet government which they cannot accept. In East Prussia there are great herds of Germans displaced by the Yalta Agreement which turned this area over to Poland. In most of all the Axis conquered countries there are great droves of persons deprived of their homes and shifted elsewhere for slave labor. Popping all this is the great army of plundered and persecuted Jews from all the countries ravaged by the Axis Powers, Poland and Germany particularly.

Because of the sentiment aspects of this problem of the displaced millions of Europe, many sympathetic Americans have been moved to suggest that we let down the immigration bars and open our arms without restriction to wholesale immigration of these unfortunate. Even President Truman has lately suggested that these quotas be radically enlarged by Congress to provide refuge for the displaced of Europe. Political pressure to this end is a desirable, it will come from all groups of European origin who possess any considerable voting strength.

Regardless of sentiment, there are practical reasons against the proposal to let down the bars to European war displacements. One objection is that it cannot provide self-sustaining employment for a large number of immigrants. Another is that we cannot even find housing for hundreds of thousands (Continued on Page Eight)

Setting Pattern

Then a few students lag because of poor physical or mental health. Yet most who lag just have not gotten down to systematic, serious study. As a rule, a student's pattern of study and recreation, which he will follow as long as he is in college, is set during his first few months there.

If he would seriously try to imagine himself four or five years hence, it should be pretty easy for him to map out a good program and discipline himself to stick to it. A hazard to the college youth, as well as to all other youths, is his urge to live just for "today." To warn him of this, however, hardly will impress him. He probably will have to learn the hard way.

About a year ago I wrote in this column of my belief that the college should give some attention to the freshman's adjustment to his family, especially with reference to his going home after being away for the first time.

Basics of Lecture

In response to that article, Dr. Carl Kardatzke, professor of psychology of Anderson college, Anderson, Ind., wrote:

"I thought the idea was fine and decided to make that the basis of the next talk I was scheduled to give to our freshman orientation group."

The following outline, in part, is what he used:
Some DOs: 1. Express appreciation to your parents. They like to hear these kind words. 2. Seek your parents' counsel about some problems, if only a few. They know many things about life that you don't know. 3. Expect that your feelings about home, parents and former friends will have changed. Some DON'Ts: 1. Don't try to make your parents over when you visit them. Trying to convince them of their wrong ideas, especially in religion. 2. Don't give them the idea that your home training, though good enough, was really not necessary for you. Rather assure them that it has been the making of you. 3. Don't show off how much you have learned in one semester. 4. Don't take any parental kindness for granted. Nattering and appreciating the little favors at home is a habit that pays big dividends away from home for a lifetime.

According to the latest Russian history the United States had no part in winning the war. Our role, it seems, is that of the usual innocent bystander who always gets hurt.—Wichita Eagle.

Landon Incites Voters To Action

Urges Removal Of "Dead-ening Hand Of Bureaucracy" To Strengthen
Nation

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 7.—(INS)—
Voters of the nation were called upon by former Gov. Alf M. Landon to remove the "deadening hand of government bureaucracy" in order that the United States may escape
"further inflation and the subsequent bust."

The 1936 Republican candidate for president, who addressed the College Republican Clubs of Kansas declared:

"The American, whose destiny we Republicans shall be called upon to direct is potentially the world's foremost power. We must make it so in reality, not by might of arms alone, but by our development of national character, unity and internal strength."

"It is now one of the last strongholds of free men and women. We must make this America a reality—
and keep it so."

Landon said that this desirable
goal can be attained only if America is strong and productive at home.
He declared that only in this way can America be strong internationally, adding:

"We shall escape further inflation and the subsequent bust only if we put our fiscal house in order and get into full production of the goods people are waiting to buy."

"We shall have enough for industry and labor to share generously with each other only if they are enabled to produce abundantly. We shall be able to afford to social advances that are necessary only if we avoid national insolvency and create the wealth to finance them."

A.V.C. MEETING HERE SUNDAY

American Veterans' Committee, New Castle Chapter No. 1, was host to delegates from Wilkinsburg, Erie and Meadville chapter in a pre-convention meeting Sunday, October 6, at the Castleton Hotel. It was announced by Andrew Metrick Jr., chairman of the New Castle chapter today.

Founder of the AVC, vice chairman, Gilbert Harrison was the principal speaker. He gave an interesting account of the rapid growth of the National Organization.

Issue discussed on the floor was the payment of state bonuses and it was unanimously agreed that the represented chapters from Western Pennsylvania are opposed to payment of state bonuses. AVC desires to bring about improvement in housing and education with liberalization of loans to the veteran for small business enterprises.

PLASTIC HAT
NEW YORK—(INS)—Perfection of a plastic hat which doesn't shrink or lose its shape though thoroughly water-soaked was announced today by Adam Hats.

The plastic headgear is the result of six years of research spurred by the wartime shortages of fur felt. Initial experiments with felt substitutes met with little success until the latter part of 1945 when plastic fiber was tried.

Chemists of the United States Testing Company Laboratories who tested the hat reported it does not shrink or lose its shape. The plastic felt body is said to be very durable, lending itself to all kinds of modern styling.

County Cost In Month $35,478

Report Is Made Of Expenditures In County Operation In September

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Comes the first of the month and the bills start rolling in for the housekeeping expenses. Everybody gets them and this includes governmental bodies as well as private families.

The cost of housekeeping for the county of Lawrence is not small and yet as counties go it is not large. In September the cost of running your county government totalled $35,478.88. Of this total $39,514.19 was for general expenses, $5,990.10 was for the institution department and $374.59 came from the liquid fuels tax fund.

The general fund, which is the big end of county housekeeping, spent the $29,514.19 as follows: County Commissioners' office, $2,618.18. County solicitor's office, $493.08. ### Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Eighteen months in Hollywood's succulent atmosphere hasn't sold young Claude Jarman, Jr., the town-head from Tennessee, on a permanent career as a movie star.

If you want to know the truth, Claude, who's 12, wants to be a farmer. He plans to study agriculture, beginning six years hence, at the University of Tennessee. He's praying he'll be good enough to play on the football team there.

In a heart-to-heart talk with your reporter, Claude said with great sincerity: "Once I get to farming, I'll make a lifetime of it."

News Is Shock
The news will come as a shock to his discoverer, Producer-Director Clarence Brown, and other M-G-M executives. They regard Claude as one of the brightest prospects for top stardom who ever has come into their orbit.

That's because of his sensational performance in his very first picture, "The Yearling," with Gregory Peck and Jane Wyman. He's only done one other picture, "High Barbaree," with Van Johnson and June Allyson.

It isn't that Claude doesn't like Hollywood, or is unappreciative of the shower of gold and fame. It's just that he's always wanted to be a farmer, as far back as he can remember. He just still wants to be a farmer. It's as simple as that.

Discovered In Tennessee
Claude recalled today how Brown had discovered him in his classroom in his native Eakin, Tenn., a year ago last February. Clarence had spent weeks searching the South for the special type of boy he wanted for "The Yearling."

"He didn't tell me who he was or what he wanted at first," Claude explained, "he just said he'd be back in a few days. The only thing he warned me about was not to get a haircut."

Claude, by the way, still needs that haircut. He waxed as poetical as a boy of 12 can in describing the "Blue Grass" country around Eakin as "the most beautiful farming country in the world."

He's hoping to put on height and weight before he goes to the university. Right now he's 5 feet, 3, and weighs an even hundred pounds.

He played football in grade school. He was the captain of the team. He also was the quarterback. Claude made another thing plain—he'd swap all the lights of Hollywood to be quarterback on a University of Tennessee team.

"After that," he added, "I'll go to farming."

GOOD CARE MEANS BETTER LOOKING SHOE

Shoes need to be cared for in order to get the most wear from them. A well-kept shoe not only wears better, but also looks better on the foot.

Clean, well-polished footwear is important for good grooming. Polishing helps to protect the leather from dirt and scratches. It's wise to polish a new pair of shoes soon after buying and not wait until the shoes are soiled and scuffed. Suede and fabric shoes should be brushed frequently with a rubber sponge or brush to remove the dust. Wire brushes rub off the nap of the suede.

If shoes become muddy, wipe off the mud with a cloth before it dries, then polish the shoes after they are dry. Damp or wet shoes should be dried thoroughly before wearing again, but never put wet shoes near a stove, radiator, or in direct sunlight. Heat will cause the leather to dry too rapidly and become stiff and hard. It is best to stuff wet shoes with paper and allow them to dry slowly away from heat. Shoetrees may stretch wet shoes out of shape, so use them only for dry shoes.

Run-over heels are not only unattractive in appearance, but are also hard on shoes. The whole shoe may be twisted and bent if the heels are not renewed.

If the soles wear through, it is wise to have them fixed promptly, before the hole has gone through the inner sole or welt.

When not being worn, keep shoes in shoebags, or shoetacks so they won't be scuffed on the closet floor or get dusty. Keeping shoetrees in them or stuffing the toes with tissue paper will help shoes keep their shape.

of our war veterans. Another is that a large proportion of such refugees would be unassimilable, while a considerable percentage would be imbued with ideologies repugnant to our American system of government. Still another reason is that the United States already has contributed millions for the relief of these war victims and has fulfilled its reasonable obligations toward them.

It is strange, in the midst of all this well-meaning agitation for bringing several millions of displaced Europeans to the United States, that no attention has been paid to the possibility of their acceptance by other countries. No mention has been made, for example, of the fact that Australia is carrying on a campaign to attract this type of population. Australia wants at least two million immigrants to develop her vast resources. Brazil wants one hundred thousand immigrants to build up her new industries. New Zealand is advertising for new citizens. Ecuador, Venezuela, Bolivia, Chile and Argentina are offering special inducements to promote immigration.

It is entirely possible that the countries actually seeking immigrants could provide for most of the displaced millions of Europe—provided the displaced world avail themselves of the numerous invitations offered. With nearly a dozen of nations anxious to develop their resources and increase their populations, begging for immigrants, it should not devolve on the United States to swing its gates wide open and invite new social and economic problems in pursuit of a sentimental idea that we are obligated to take on responsibility for a horde of immigrants, possibly unassimilable. Can't we ever reach the conclusion that we have performed our part in world philanthropy?

Druggists report that about half of the prescriptions they fill contain sedatives.

General Strike Called In Tokyo

Strike Is Aimed At Yoshida Government—Date Set For Walkout Is October 15

TOKYO, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Japan's CIO which claims a million and a half members, today called a general strike against the Yoshida government on October 15.

The general strike is planned as an extension of the currently faltering newspaper strike. Electrical workers had already scheduled a strike for October 15.

A large force of Japanese police, meantime, moved into strikebound Tokyo late today, ordering strikers out of the building. Their first effort failed as strikers refused to move. Five strike leaders were arrested.

Ask U. S. Military Aid
Japanese police asked American military police to aid them. However, Lieut. Col. D. R. Crocker of the U. S. Army carefully investigated the situation and explained American M. P.'s would not help Japanese police unless public safety was endangered beyond their ability.

Japanese police predicted there would be further resistance when they make a second attempt to oust the strikers.

Togo Kameda, Japanese CIO organizer, said the general strike will be directed specifically against the Cabinet of Premier Shigeru Yoshida because of the government's action in seizing strike-bound radio Tokyo and because of the government's refusal to take action on union demands in the newspaper strike.

U. S. May Delay Health Legislation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Suggestions for 130 changes in the proposed compulsory National Health Insurance Bill may delay its presentation for some time after the New Congress convenes next January.

A source close to the Senate Education and Labor Committee, sponsors of the controversial measure, said that much unscheduled work remain to be done.

The bill would set up a Federal-State system of community-wide health services as well as prepaid personal health service benefits.

Audience Will Hear Of Palestine Work

Annual Mission Convention Gets Under Way At Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, Pearson St.

Sunday, the annual missionary convention and Bible conference of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street got under way with two inspiring addresses delivered in the well filled auditorium of the church.

Rev. Harold Sutton of Ambridge delivered the address in the morning at 10:45 o'clock, with Mrs. K. Rommen of Thibet, China, giving the audience an insight into the customs and living conditions of her field of labor during the evening.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock the convention audience will have the privilege of hearing two addresses, one by Rev. Donald Ward, missionary to Palestine, and another by Rev. D. C. Kopp of Punxsutawney, Pa., missionary, evangelist and Bible teacher.

The convention will continue throughout this week, with services being conducted daily at 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., with the exception of Saturday, when there will be an evening service only. Mrs. J. B. Bazon of India will join the party this evening will be heard at one of the services on Tuesday.

Most Delegates To Convention To Arrive Wednesday

Only a limited number of the delegates from out of the city who will attend the 84th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association at the Cathedral October 8-11 will arrive on Tuesday afternoon. For this reason the general public is invited to this opening session on Tuesday evening, October 8, in addition to the ones who have registered from this city. This will be an outstanding session, as the Westminster college a capella choir and Westminster singers, with Charles I. Sager as conductor, will bring a program of music, and Dr. Henry Smith Leiper of New York, who is internationally known, will bring an inspirational message.

The worship leader will be Dr. Edgar C. Smith, the song leader Dr. Clyde W. Meadows and the accompanist Mrs. Clyde W. Meadows. Presiding will be Henry E. Cole, director, of Pittsburgh. The closing prayer and benediction will be delivered by Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second U. P. church.

Those wishing to register are urged to come slightly earlier so that they can fill out registration card and receive packet of convention material. However, all are invited to this session whether they are registered or not.

SLAVS EXPLAIN DOWNING OF RAF TRANSPORT FRIDAY

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Reuters attributed to diplomatic circles today a statement that the Belgrade government had explained that Yugoslav fighters forced down a British plane Friday because they failed to recognize its markings.

According to the dispatch, the Belgrade explanation was made following a protest of the British ambassador to Yugoslavia.

The report added that the Yugoslav government issued instructions that the RAF Dakota should be allowed to proceed on its mission.

Rosamond means "famed protection."

Hope To Carry Army By Planes

Air Forces Launching Program To Make Entire Army Transportable By Air

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The army air force revealed it has launched a broad program to make the entire army transportable by air in preparation for possible future warfare.

Brie. Gen. William M. Milley, commander of the airborne school at Ft. Benning, Ga., declared that toward this end "we have a start—a real beginning." He asserted that the program is "backed from topside in both the air forces and the ground forces."

Miley's statement and details of the program were carried in the air force's official service journal, "AAF Review" which stated:

"Evaluating the lessons learned in World War II and planning for the type of warfare that may be imposed on the United States in the future, the airborne school at Ft. Benning, Ga., in conjunction with leaders of the army air force, is initiating a program aimed at making the entire army air transportable."

Designing Equipment
Miley revealed that "ordnance equipment is being redesigned to fit aircraft loading requirements and giant air transports are being designed to conform more closely with ordnance specifications." He declared:

"We know that we are on the right track and our revolutionary plan is certainly within the realm of possibility. The service publication maintained that "in the present and future air age, the United States can no longer depend upon slow water transportation and its tactical limitations to place a striking force on an enemy shore."

It was disclosed that an "air trailer" is under consideration as a means of improving airborne operations and air transportability.

Keller Cochran Reaches England To Claim Bride

Mrs. Jane M. Cochran of 309 Fern street received a cablegram Saturday from her son Keller, saying that he had arrived safely in England. Keller is the local ex-G. I. who left New Castle for Birmingham, England, to claim his bride. Being the first prospective war groom from here to return to England.

Because of the Maritime strike, the local ex-G. I. spent several weeks in New York City before being able to secure passage. He finally was able to leave on the Argentine which left a week-ago Friday and made the trip in seven days.

Mr. Cochran will be married some time this week and will return with his bride as soon as passage can be secured. The couple will reside with Keller's mother at 309 Fern street.

Health Talks By DR. W. A. WOMER City Health Superintendent

BOY OR GIRL
When a family is expecting a visit by the stork, there is usually a lot of speculation as to whether the newcomer will be a girl or a boy.

It seems that this has been a problem all through the ages. From time to time an individual has claimed that he could foretell what the sex of the new baby would be.

No one has ever been able to do it. Poultry raisers have tried to find some way to tell what the sex of the newly hatched chicken would be. They have not yet succeeded.

Royal families have employed soothsayers and wise men and astrologers to try to solve the question. Scientists have been studying about it for ages, it still remains an unsolved problem.

No one can tell whether the chicken will be a rooster or a hen. No one can tell whether the baby will be a boy or a girl.

KILL 41 DOGS

There were 41 less dogs October 5 than on September 5, according to the dog catcher, who said he killed that many during the month past.

— "Saturday Night is— my night to shine"

In the "good old days" one of the regular family rituals was Saturday night bathing a la kitchen wash tub. Even in these modern times, it is still the night when the greatest demands are placed on your hot water system — and that's when Reddy Kilowatt takes over. Electric water heating assures you plenty of hot water even if you are fourth or fifth in the bathroom line-up. And no fuss either! Once it's installed and set, your hot water worries are over. You'll even forget the source of hot water. And, of course, it's clean, the fire and steam at our power plant transforms coal into the modern energy — Electricity.

Several Persons Hurt In Accident At Harlansburg

Several persons were injured, one of whom is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, in an accident at the intersection of Routes 108 and 37070, a recently paved blacktop road in Harlansburg at 4:15 p. m. Sunday. The hospitalized patient is Thomas Waddington, 76, of New Brighton, operator of one of the cars. The car he drove upset.

According to the state police investigation Mr. Waddington failed to heed the stop sign at the intersection of 108 route or the main road and his car collided with that of Bessie Caplan, Crescent avenue, Ellwood City. Mrs. Rose Caplan, 65, same address, who was an occupant of the Caplan car is in New Castle hospital with chest and knee injuries.

John Emery, 78, Oak street, this city, who was an occupant of Mr. Waddington's car sustained a laceration of the scalp while Mrs. Thomas Waddington, wife of the operator and Mr. and Mrs. William Waddington, also of New Brighton, were injured but did not require hospitalization.

Drunken Auto Driving Must Be Eliminated From Our Highways

Drinking played a part in one out of six fatal traffic accidents in the United States last year. In Pennsylvania the 1945 traffic accident experience involved the death of 88 intoxicated pedestrians and the injury of 219.

Of the 24,457 traffic violations arrests made by the Pennsylvania state police last year, 261 were for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. Throughout the country "under the influence of liquor" was reported for seven per cent of drivers in rural fatal accidents and four per cent of drivers in urban accidents.

The notion that two or three "quick ones" don't impair driving ability just doesn't hold water, the National Conservation Bureau says. The traffic specialists of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives say that those people who blantly believe that a little alcohol sharpens their vision and speeds up their ability to make split-second decisions are just inviting the undertaker when they put that theory into practice on the highways.

The safety specialists point out that they are not trying to moralize and do not suggest that people should not drink if they care to. They only advise, on the basis of accident records, that imbibers should observe common rules of safety for their own protection and that of others.

Increase In Drunken Driving
A recent survey which covered 34 states indicates a current increase in drunken driving. It shows increases in arrests and convictions for drunken driving and, in more than half of the states covered, the increase ranges from 30 to over 100 per cent. Per capita consumption of distilled liquors, which mounted from 1.21 gallons per capita to 1.36 from 1944 to 1945, has accelerated its climb in the early months of 1946.

Highway safety and police officials consulted in the survey point out that an increased volume of traffic accidents is general observable along stretches of road where liquor-serving taverns are found; that stretches of road between counties with different tavern closing hours tend to show a particularly high auto-crash frequency as befogged patrons leave the drinking places on one side of the line at closing time and head for others in the next counties that are still open.

The National Conservation Bureau points out, however, that the statistics on drunken driving do not tell the full story. They explain that it is a well established principle in the prevention of traffic accidents caused by persons driving automobiles while under the influence of intoxicants that the number is never accurately and fully revealed because the real drunk seldom gets far in the operation of an automobile. He either runs off the road or stops and falls asleep.

Dangerous Driver
On the other hand, the bureau specialists say, the person who has consumed just enough alcohol to make him feel buoyant or over-confident, represents the individual whose judgment and ability to react quickly has deteriorated sufficiently to make him a dangerous driver. He is particularly dangerous because he doesn't realize his present disability. This person unquestionably caused many accidents which are not attributed to drunken driving, because the shock of the accident or the shock of being placed under arrest has a sufficiently strong effect to remove traces of alcohol, thus making it impossible for the police to obtain necessary evidence to warrant an arrest on charges of operating a car while intoxicated.

It is for this reason, the National Conservation Bureau says, that scientific tests for intoxication are now used by police. These tests are not always practical, however, they point out, particularly in the case of rural police where hospital facilities are not so readily available and it is not expedient to carry complicated equipment to conduct scientific tests on patrol work.

To Curtail Operations

The National Conservation Bureau has recommended the following principles be adopted to curtail operation of motor vehicles by persons under the influence of intoxicants:

(1) Use of scientific tests with adequate training of police in the application of these tests.

(2) Efficient law enforcement program.

(3) Public education of dangers involved in the operation of a motor vehicle while intoxicated, with the same educator applied to pedestrians.

(4) Recognition by the courts of the seriousness of this crime through the imposition of appropriate penalties upon those convicted.

Chemical test surveys of drivers involved in a cross-section of accident experience have shown that from 13 to 31 per cent of the drivers had sufficient body fluid alcohol concentrations to definitely indicate they were intoxicated. Nevertheless, the National Conservation Bureau reports, many drunken driving accidents are classed under reckless or careless driving because convictions are more easily obtained.

There is, therefore, good reason for believing that the officially reported figures understate the true importance of alcohol as a traffic accident factor.

For safer driving, the National Conservation Bureau declares, "the drunken driver must be eliminated from the streets and highways."

KEEPING BUSY

BEST METHOD TO SUPPRESS FEAR

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—(INS)—

The best way to combat fear, according to one psychologist, is to keep busy.

Dr. Laurence P. Shaffer, of Columbia university, said "keeping busy helped reduce fear tensions by submitting constructive efforts."

He based his observations on tests given to over four thousand airmen, who averaged 35 combat missions.

Special Classes Interest Children

Instead of being on the street or playing hooky from classes they have no interest in or aptitude for, youngsters of any age from seven or eight to sixteen were busy cleaning up their workshop—classroom in one of the city's schools this week.

Four Classes In City

The class was one of four in the city for orthogenic backward children, where youngsters who have no academic aptitude or who have never been encouraged to do book-work, learn to re-align themselves with the standards of conduct and to a certain extent with the standards of school work expected of all other children in the city's public school system.

In fact, many of the children in this class are far more polite than the average school child, and they are always willing to read, spell, play the handwork, or to fulfill any other request concerning their work in the class without shyness or confusion.

Attitude Is First Problem

The friendliness of these children was a tribute to their teacher, who has found that the first task is breaking down the opposition which the youngsters have to school. When their attitude becomes one of cooperation with their classmates and confidence in the teacher, the battle is half won.

No one is trying to force the youngsters in the class to become quiz kids, or even bookworms, and the instruction is not for the purpose of teaching them vocations. Of primary importance is the influence which the class have on the citizenship of its members—their cooperation, their understanding of the purposes of laws and the need for obeying them, their ability to concentrate on one job until it is completed, their habits of tidiness and cleanliness, their courtesy.

Handcraft Essential

As part of this program, each member of the class spends at least half of his time doing handcraft work—knitting, carpentry, making model airplanes, or whatever else interests him. This training is to show the child he can be interested in creating something himself, and that once he starts it, he should finish his job before beginning another.

End tables and coffee tables, coat racks, a small wheel barrow, cleverly-designed wall plaques, trays—all were sitting around the room of evidence of what the class could do. Although they are proud of progress which they make in arithmetic and reading, the handcraft work furnishes them material evidence that they can do much more than they, or the people with whom they have been in contact, thought they could. That fact in itself goes far towards helping to make good citizens of the children in this class.

Heart Attack Fatal To Bride At Wedding Ceremony

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(INS)—A sudden heart attack was believed to have caused the death of pretty Rose De Fabrizio, 21, as she walked up the aisle of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel in Inwood, L. I., to be married. Authorities ordered an autopsy.

Rose was to be married to her childhood sweetheart, 20-year-old John Mastantuono, who had completed three years in the army.

As Rose walked up the aisle on the arm of her father, Louis, she faltered and her father patted her arm reassuringly. A moment later she fell forward. Five hundred guests and her father thought she had fainted and she was taken into the air. Physicians and a police rescue squad pronounced her dead. Meanwhile the bridegroom, waiting in the vestry, collapsed when informed Rose had died. He was taken to the home of friends.

Brother, Sister Sentenced In Erie For March Slaying

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 7.—Michael Bubbin, 29, will be executed, and his sister, Mrs. Millie Thomas, 26, faces life imprisonment in the March 4 slaying of Robert Fisher, 34, an ex-sailor.

Mrs. Thomas sobbed when informed of her sentence and said: "I don't care about myself—I just worry about my brother." Her brother heard his sentence with bowed head.

The bullet-riddled body of Fisher was found in a shallow grave by golfers. The brother and sister claimed the killing was done by Michael Dominic, who will be tried on murder charges next month.

Allegheny Girl Auto Crash Victim

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The Allegheny county coroner reported today that a 19-month-old girl was one of four persons killed in automobile accidents in the Pittsburgh district over the weekend.

Police reported that Phyllis Glover, 19-months, died of a fractured skull after she ran into the side of an automobile.

Two Clairton men, Luther Johnson, 24, and Jesse Hilliard, 25, were killed when their truck crashed through a guard rail and plunged down a 40-foot cliff near Dravosburg.

Mrs. Catherine Meehan, 41, Pittsburgh, died after an automobile in which she was a passenger, crashed into a utility pole, police said.

Miss Helen Venditto, of 805 South Jefferson street, has returned home from Boston, Mass., where for the past six months she has been training for her Senior cadet period, which terminated a five-year course from the School of Nursing at Duquesne University. Miss Venditto received her Bachelor of Science degree in nursing from Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa., on June 2, 1946. Her family attended the exercise.

Miss Venditto is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Venditto, 805 South Jefferson street. She plans to resume her nursing career, following an indefinite vacation period.

Still Need Rooms For Delegates

Mrs. D. W. Nesbit, the Lodging Chairman, has turned over a large number of "entertainment in homes" cards to Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, as the response has been gratifying the last few days, since the good local residents have realized that these fine Christian people from all over Pennsylvania must be comfortably taken care of when attending the 84th Annual Convention of the State Sabbath School Association.

However, as conventions are well attended this year, more accommodations might still be needed. Anyone wishing to provide rooms for delegates may still call Mrs. D. W. Nesbit, phone 5730-J.

M'ARTHUR ORDERS STOLEN DIAMONDS UNCOVERED BY JAPS

TOKYO, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The Japanese government was ordered today by General MacArthur's headquarters to trace and produce more than a million dollars worth of diamonds which the Japanese army stole from the Netherlands East Indies.

The Netherlands government recently filed a claim with General MacArthur's headquarters for the precious stones, which were said to weigh a total of more than 3,500 carats.

Dutch authorities said the Japanese army stole the diamonds and sent them to the Japanese government in Tokyo in 1942, early in the Pacific war.

Opportunity Group Plans For Dinner

At the home of Mrs. William H. Leicht, of 107 East Clayton street, members of the Opportunity Circle of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church assembled during the week-end, with a good attendance. Mrs. D. H. Cochran was co-hostess.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. E. C. Hulbert. At the business session, plans were made to send a box of clothing to a southern mission school, some time this month. It was also decided to have a Thanksgiving tureen dinner in the home of Mrs. G. H. Cook of 405 Newell avenue, at noon of Friday, November 1.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and co-hostess.

Grand Auxiliary Plans For Luncheon

On Thursday afternoon, members of the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will gather in the green room of the Y. W. C. A. at 1:30, for their regular meeting.

Luncheon will be served following the business session. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Don Warnock, chairlady, Mrs. C. D. Wirtman, Mrs. J. A. Hunter, Mrs. Mary Matthews.

Young Folks Group Enjoys Hay Ride

Nine former servicemen of the ward and district, and their girl friends assembled on Saturday evening at 8:30 in a suburban tearoom, and partook of a spaghetti dinner.

At ten o'clock, the group went for a hay ride which covered the New Wilmington district. Clair Arble was in charge of arrangements.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Wednesday afternoon, members of the Ladies Aid Society will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Clyde Shaw, of Second street, at 2:30, for their regular meeting. Wednesday evening, following the prayer service, the official board will meet. The Women's Missionary society meeting, formerly scheduled for Friday evening, has been postponed until Thursday evening, October 24, in the home of Mrs. Stephen Hutnick, of 105 East Clayton street.

ST. MARGARET TEAM MEETS WEDNESDAY

For Wednesday evening, Albert "Blackie" Adamo, manager, announces a meeting of St. Margaret's baseball team, at 7:30 in St. Margaret's hall, North Liberty street.

The sports committee, and all affiliated with the ball team are expected to attend, as business of importance will be transacted.

MAHONING METHODIST

This evening, at 7 o'clock, the board of trustees will meet in the church parlor. At 8 o'clock, the board of stewards will meet in the same location. The Women's Society of Christian Service will meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30, in the church parlor. Friday, commencing at ten o'clock in the morning, the Grove City Methodist District conference will have their sessions in the Methodist church at Sharpsville.

BIKCYLIST INJURED

Nine-year-old Phyllis Gennock, of 301 West Wabash avenue, received lacerations of the right leg, Sunday at 12:30 p. m., when her bicycle crashed into a parked car. She was treated at the New Castle hospital.

BOY SCOUTS THURSDAY

In the social room of the Mahoning Methodist church, the Boy Scouts Troop X-4 will gather on Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock. William Bollinger, scoutmaster.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schenker, and Mrs. Helen Sanders of Lorain, Ohio, visited during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. LaRock of 511 West Madison avenue. Mrs. Schenker and Mrs. Sanders are sisters of Mrs. LaRock.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Swisher of Erie, spent the weekend visiting with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Swisher of Mt. Jackson road.

Mrs. W. E. Weitz and son William of 102 West Madison avenue, have returned from an annual trip, which included visits in York, Harrisburg, Gettysburg and Wilmington, Del.

William H. (Billy) Metz of 923 North Cedar street, who is receiving treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital, is slightly improved.

Warren, O., Also Has Power Strike

New Strike Follows On Heels Of Transportation Strike Already Gripping City

WARREN, O., Oct. 7.—(INS)—The city of Warren, already deprived of bus transportation for the past week, was virtually blocked out by a strike today of Ohio Workers of America at the Ohio Public Service company power plant.

The 140 power plant employees walked off their jobs this morning following a breakdown in negotiations for an 18-cent-an-hour wage increase for all production and distribution workers.

Besides the 60,000 residents of Warren, the strike affected the adjoining city of Niles and many suburban areas.

Approximately 8,000 workers in heavy industry such as the Republic Steel corporation plants in Warren and Niles were to be laid off. Flat rolled steel operations at the Warren plant were stopped as soon as the strike began.

Officials of the large industries were holding conferences to determine whether to stop all operations and close their plants until the strike ends.

Power was continuing to domestic consumers, but officials of the power company said that only a small staff of supervisory employees were on the job and that curtailment of electricity would continue to a point where all plant operations may have to be discontinued.

There was no change in the jurisdictional fight of independent bus operators and the AFL drivers, which has paralyzed the only transportation facilities in Warren. The Warren Transportation company has held its buses in garages pending the outcome of a court battle.

FRENCH ACCLAIM "WEEKEND" FILM

CANNES, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Ray Milland, star of the motion picture, "Lost Weekend," will have to move his "Oscar" over on the marketplace to make room for a grand prize of the Cannes film festival.

The film jury also singled out Michele Morgan for an individual performance in "La Symphonie Pastorale."

"Lost Weekend" was designated the best American film and a grand prize also was awarded Walter Disney's animated cartoon, "Make Mine Music."

"La Bataille U Rail" was adjudged the best French film.

PITTSBURGH BACK TO "DIM-OUT" STAGE

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Pittsburgh is returning to the wartime "dimout" stage, police said today, as more and more street lights burn out.

Police reported that lights are going out at the rate of 20 each night, with almost 1100 already blacked out.

The downtown area now is the darkest section of town, with most of its lighting at night coming from automobile headlights.

"RECLUSE" HAD $2,700

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 7.—(INS)—To the people of Wilmington, 72-year-old Joseph Stopka was just a poor old recluse.

And Stopka supported that theory when he was taken to Delaware hospital suffering from heart trouble. "I have no money and no relatives," he told hospital authorities. Then he died and when police went to his room, they learned Stopka had $2,700 in cash and securities—and a wife and six children in Perkasie.

Three Injured In Beaver County

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 7.—Three Beaver County persons were in the hospital today following week-end accidents which involved a horse, a gun and a football game.

Norman McCann, 19, of New Galilee, is in Providence hospital with probably internal injuries and bruises about the arms and head suffered when he was thrown from a runaway horse.

Ronald Young, Eastvale Boy Scout, 13, received an accidental wound in his arm from a gun while in North Sewickley township. He was brought to the hospital for treatment.

Donald Reese, 30, of College Hill, suffered severe head injuries in an amateur football game Saturday, and is also hospitalized.

MISSING MAN RETURNS

Police reported today that Albert Kather and son, who were reported by his wife to be missing, has returned.

Charges Railroads Alone Are Denied Adequate Relief

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Railroad charged today that railroads alone "among the great industries of the nation" have been denied "adequate relief" in meeting higher operational costs.

In a special message to stockholders, the carrier, declared: "Other industries have been allowed to charge higher prices to meet higher costs they could not absorb. That, too, is the only way the railroads can solve their problem."

"The railroads are meeting their responsibility to the country, but the country is not meeting its responsibility to the railroads."

The Pennsylvania's message said that the zooming costs have forced the nation's carriers to "pinch pennies to stay solvent."

"Only through increased rates can the railroads of America establish the economic basis that will enable them to get better cars, better equipment of all kinds, and perform better and increasingly attractive service for the American public," the message stated.

South Florida Prepares

South Florida residents braced themselves to receive the onslaught of the anticipated terrific winds and swirling rains.

The severe storm, forming in the Caribbean Sea southwest of Cuba Sunday, roared across Cuba's western tip and headed into the Straits of Florida and on toward the Florida Keys early today.

The first announcement of the approaching winds, which reached 100 miles an hour near the center, set into motion a well-placed storm preparedness and relief program designed to lend the greatest possible aid in the event of disaster.

Rescue units of the Red Cross, Army, Navy, Coast Guard and civilian volunteers were alerted. Full crews of rescue boats and planes stood-by for immediate duty.

Residents of communities in the Keys and along the Florida west coast began the battering down processes that most of them have gone through before.

Cancel Air Flights

Pan-American Airways cancelled all flights to and from Havana last night and through today. A scheduled take-off from Merida, Yucatan, was postponed and another PAA Clipper was held up at Guatemala pending further word on the storm's course and intensity.

The island city of Key West, which lies near the southern tip of the stepping-stone bits of land that form the Florida Keys, waited tensely for winds of full hurricane force to strike around noon.

Navy blimps were moved from Boca Chica Naval Air Station near Key West to Glen's Cove, Ga., while planes were flown to Jacksonville and Memphis, Tenn.

Light navy ships were being made secure and large navy vessels prepared to head out to sea to ride out the expected strong winds and high seas.

Plan For Relief

Most of Key West's sponge and fishing fleet sought anchorage. Disaster committee officials planned to set up relief shelters in school buildings and churches.

Plan For Relief

Most of Key West's sponge and fishing fleet sought anchorage. Disaster committee officials planned to set up relief shelters in school buildings and churches.

The big Posolocka Naval Air Station near Miami was alerted suddenly by the bad weather yesterday and was unable to transfer any planes to bases in Georgia and the Carolinas.

Navy officers hoped to be able to send some of the planes winging to safer fields today.

All navy and Coast Guard personnel in Southern Florida reported back for duty at 6 a. m. today, and leaves were cancelled.

The Coast Guard readied its extensive rescue units, composed of both planes and surface craft, to work with the Army and Navy in the event of disaster.

Regular broadcasts of weather information were sent out by the Coast Guard in Miami to ships at sea. Plans were laid to have planes drop message blocks to warn small boats not possessing radio facilities.

Former Resident To Be Buried Wednesday

Funeral services for the late Kathryn Ellen Zell, aged 63 years, of 620 Thirty-Fifth street, Beaver Falls, will be conducted Wednesday morning, October 9, at 9:30 o'clock, from the St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Beaver Falls.

Mrs. Zell, who was born in New Castle, June 27, 1883, died after an illness of one year's duration. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Carty of New Castle. The deceased was a member of St. Mary's church and the Catholic Women's Union of Beaver Falls.

Mrs. Zell is survived by her husband, Henry M. Zell; one daughter, of Aspinwall, Pa., and one granddaughter.

Friends are being received at the family residence at any time.

Meat Shortage
Campaign IssueMany Capitol Leaders Foresee Situation As Big Issue In State CampaignOTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.—(INS)—

The current meat shortage was expected by many leaders at the state capitol to be a prime issue during the fall campaign. Most leaders anticipate that the Democrats will blame the Republicans for the shortage especially because of GOP congressional votes against OPA legislation. On the other hand, Republican nominees were expected to blast the Democrats for alleged "bureaucratic bungling" and "fumbling" from which the shortage resulted. One thing has become apparent—the candidates will be doing a lot of talking about meat.

While the discussions over the meat shortage were expected to be the highlight of the food scarcity problem, many leaders have expressed the belief that the causes of other scarce items may result in verbal battles between the candidates. Many chieftains have regarded the food situation as the number one issue.

Both Republicans and Democrats have been attempting to persuade well-known World War II heroes publicly to support their tickets. The Democrats, however, have placed former Marine Sgt. Al Schmid, of Philadelphia, on their state-wide ticket. Schmid, who was blinded on Guadalcanal, is the candidate for secretary of internal affairs. In Pittsburgh, Ex-Sgt. Charles E. (Command) Kelly, hero of the Italian campaign, has announced his support of Republican candidates.

The monthly news letter of the Young Democratic club of Pennsylvania has urged members to persuade registered voters to participate in the general election November 5. The registration deadline was September 14. "From now on, every effort must be concentrated upon getting those who have registered to the polls on election day," the letter emphasized.

Although Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor has belittled the Democratic state organization's announcement that top party leaders would be brought into Pennsylvania during the fall campaign, many chieftains at the state capitol believe the GOP will import some top-flight speakers.

Many leaders at the state house predict the 1947 session of the general assembly will be one of the longest on record because of the many problems, notably a state bonus and housing, to be considered by assemblymen. The legislature will convene January 7. The longest session of the legislature since 1873 was the 1941 meeting which lasted 196 days.

This year marks the first year since 1931 that the General Assembly did not convene either in regular or special session. The assembly convenes in regular session during odd-numbered years. There was little likelihood that Gov. Edward Martin would summon assemblymen into extraordinary session during the remainder of 1946. He has refused numerous appeals from Democratic candidates and veterans organizations for a special meeting of the legislature to consider a state bonus.

One of the most persistent reports on Capitol Hill has it that Secretary of Labor and Industry William H. Chesnut, of Philadelphia, may be asked to serve another term if Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican gubernatorial nominee, is elected next month.

Grass Fire At Site
Of New Air Field

Shenango Volunteer firemen were called out Sunday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire which started on the ground where the new airport is being constructed on the Ellwood road.

Firemen worked an hour or more with the blaze, which was threatening adjoining property before it was put out.

What To Do
For That Sluggish,
Down-and-Out
Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to refresh those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease. To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients. Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start with SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Britain May Make Public Note To Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Reports of disturbances in Palestine following President Truman's demand for "substantial" and immediate Jewish immigration into the Holy Land caused speculation today that Britain may make public its note to the chief executive on the subject.

While it was generally understood that Mr. Truman did not want the note published, it was believed the subsequent developments might cause Prime Minister Clement Attlee to do so anyway.

Serious Disaffection

Attlee's spokesman has indicated that the note was rather sharp like-wise he expressed disaffection that the White House had issued its statement either despite or in advance of word from London that Britain felt it should not be issued at this time.

Taus far the Palestine reports have indicated growing tension, rather than serious violence, as Jews supported and Arabs opposed the White House statement. Arab leaders had already made clear that they might take retaliation action if the United States were to press its position too hard.

While it is felt in Washington that such action might be felt seriously along economic and political lines, some officials point out that most of the economic concessions of American interests are equally beneficial to the Arab states. For this reason, they argue, Arab threats are not to be taken too seriously.

Accident Occurs At Grade Crossing On Route 224 Today

Two autos and a truck were damaged considerably and one auto operator sustained a cut above an eye when a truck hit one auto, which in turn, struck another car and forced it against a N. Y. C. R. R. train of empties on a crossing on Route 224, one mile this side of the Pennsylvania-Ohio line at 9:30 a. m. today, according to State police. The injured driver is George W. Shaffer, West Washington street, extension.

The train was crossing Route 224 and two cars stopped. However, a truck struck the second car which drove ahead and knocked the first car which had stopped into the train. Shaffer was driving the car second in line.

Hungarian Club In Ellwood Raided

Slot Machines Are Confiscated In Raid Conducted Early Sunday Morning

In a raid conducted at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning, in the Hungarian Club, 2 First Street, Ellwood City, by members of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, Ellwood City Police, and County Detective Charles D. Ross, four slot machines were confiscated.

There were two five-cent machines, a dime machine, and a quarter machine, of the "one-armed bandit" type seized.

No charges have been preferred against any of the club officers as yet, County Detective Ross stated.

Capitol Flags At Half Mast For G. Pinchot

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.—(INS)—State capitol offices were closed today by Gov. Edward Martin in tribute to the late Gifford Pinchot, twice governor of Pennsylvania. Flags were ordered flown at half-staff for the next 30 days.

Gifford Pinchot was a patriotic American, steadfast in his devotion to American ideals. He fought with all his vigorous mind and strength of character for the principles in which he believed. His tireless zeal to preserve for future generations the wealth of our forests and other natural resources is deserving of our highest praise and deepest appreciation.

His renown as a conservationist was world-wide; and he won fame as a scientist, explorer, author and sportsman. His enthusiastic love of nature and the great outdoors was a source of inspiration to young and old.

Twice governor of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Gifford Pinchot will be remembered always as a staunch advocate of good government and as a public servant of the highest integrity.

Pinchot, who was 81 years old August 11, died Friday night in a New York hospital after a brief illness.

To Press Fight To Train Youth

Sen. Gurney, S. D., To Continue Battle For Universal Military Training

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Sen. Gurney (R) S. D., said he will continue his fight for peacetime universal military training in the new Congress.

Gurney said he expects to join with other peacetime training supporters in sponsoring legislation along lines recommended by the war department.

At the same time, he indicated that he will fight any training scheme in which the period is too short "to make a soldier." The South Dakota senator declared:

"I shall be against any plan to spend federal funds for setting up a training program and then not keep the trainee long enough to give the government value in return for the outlay."

"There is no value in spending funds for training and not getting trained soldiers."

Without mentioning specifically the American Legion's proposal for a four-months training period, the South Dakota Republican, co-sponsor of the unsuccessful administration peacetime training bill in the last session of Congress, said he would follow war department regulations in formulating new legislation.

The war department differs with the Legion. Its program calls for six months of basic training, plus six months or its equivalent in National Guard, Reserve Officers Training corps or other further training.

Baked clay (terra cotta) was used throughout the Middle Ages in architecture, chiefly for floor tiles, but also for roof-crests and ornamental finials.

State Labor At New Employment Peak, Report Says

Force Of 4,250,000 Workers, Job-Seekers Largest In History Of State

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The U. S. employment service for Pennsylvania reported that the state's labor force of 4,250,000 workers and job seekers was the largest in history and predicted it would continue to grow.

Despite a turnover of "more than 40 per cent," the worker group had increased by nearly half a million people since the end of the war, the U. S. E. S. reported.

Unemployment, it was pointed out, has risen "only moderately and production levels are increasing."

Jobholders currently numbered 3,760,000 while the number of persons seeking employment totaled approximately 490,000, it was added.

Some Scarcity
No "over-all" labor shortages were indicated in the survey, the agency reported, although some scarcity of labor was noted in certain skilled occupations and "scattered localities."

The immobility of the present labor force, occasioned chiefly by the housing shortages, will be a prominent factor in any stringencies," the U. S. E. S. asserted.

New supplies of workers were expected from the return of some of the 175,000 Pennsylvanians still in the armed services, veterans terminating "vacations," school turnouts and a possible re-entry of women and other reserves due to the pressure of increased living costs.

During the past year, nearly a million former service men rejoined the industrial scene while 100,000 new workers entered the field, the agency stated. Approximately 650,000 others, mostly women, retired from industry.

Future employment trends depended largely upon production quotas and the "production ability of labor," the U. S. E. S. concluded.

Hail Decrease In Auto Deaths

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.—(INS)—A drop of 202 highway fatalities during the past nine months of the year compared with 1941 was credited today by State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm to "combination of motorist cooperation and law enforcement."

Wilhelm said there were 724 deaths on rural routes January through September this year compared with 926 in a similar period of 1941, considered by police to be the last comparable year in view of wartime traveling regulations.

About 10 per cent of the drivers in the state were singled out by Wilhelm for "careless and reckless" driving. He warned that enforcement of highway safety laws would be enforced unrelentingly.

REPORT SCHACHT FACES NEW TRIAL

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(INS)—A Reuters dispatch from Frankfurt reported today that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht left Nuremberg today in the direction of Stuttgart, Germany.

Schacht was one of the three Nazis acquitted by the international war crimes tribunal who had been threatened with re-arrest by German denazification boards.

The dispatch said that Schacht announced he is prepared to face a properly constituted denazification court.

He declared:
"There is not the slightest suggestion that I shall flee or escape justice."

Sinatra Admits Rift With Wife

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Bobby Sox Idol Frank Sinatra today confirmed reports he had separated from his wife, Nancy, but said there is no thought of a divorce.

Sinatra said he left home two days ago.

The singer did not go into the cause of the separation, but indicated it was linked to his conflicting roles as a bobby sox idol and a family man with two children.

His wife, whom Sinatra wed before he achieved fame as a "swamp crooner," made very few public appearances with him.

Sinatra attended a party given by Sonia Henie Saturday night and danced many times with Lana Turner, but gave no hint of any domestic trouble.

ESKIMOS USING PORTABLE RADIO IN FROZEN ARCTIC

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The strident tones of "Le Jazz Hot" have penetrated the cold, silent wastes of the Arctic. Three Eskimo whale hunters are reported to have a portable radio to serve them during the long nights. They even carry the radio of long expeditions for seals, while they ride on their tight little kayaks. One of the hunters ties the portable around his neck with a leather thong—and they can have "the juke's family" with their seals. They take their blubber two ways.

Titans And Juniata Battle To 6-6 Tie

Westminster Misses Several Scoring Opportunities At Farrell Saturday

Crowd Of Some 2,500 See College Gridders; Meet Edinboro Saturday

(Special To The News)
Two evenly matched college elevens, Westminster and Juniata, battled to a 6-6 tie under a mid-summer sun on the Farrell High field, Saturday afternoon, before 2,500 fans. It was Westminster's second tie in as many contests, having played Slippery Rock to a scoreless decision in the opener.

Westminster was the first to score, crossing the Juniata goal line in the second quarter. Stopped one-half yard from the goal line, Demoisie Everhart kicked out to the nine. Juniata recovered the ball and then Demoisie went off right tackle for the touchdown. Demoisie missed the placement kick for the extra point.

Indians Knot Count

Juniata knotted the count in the first minute of the third quarter by capitalizing on a peculiar play. On the second half kickoff Wilson's kick rolled on the ground. It struck Wester, Westminster center, and Wilson recovered the ball on the 50. Sherry went through the line to the 32 and then Burgerstock broke off right tackle for 32 yards and a touchdown. On Wilson's first try for the point after touchdowns, the kick was low but Westminster was offside. Mastro broke through to block Wilson's second try. Although the first down recapitulation showed Juniata to have outgained Westminster 9-7, it was the Titans who had greater scoring opportunities. The Titans unleashed a varied attack in the first quarter which carried to Juniata's 20 where the ball was lost on a fumble. The drive started when McDaniels, Westminster, received Kauffman's kick on his own 25 and advanced to the 25.

Fumble Costly
Demoisie went up to the 47. On a behind the line pass, McDaniels to Demoisie, the latter raced to the 36. On the next play, Demoisie hit the line for a nice gain but fumbled with Juniata recovering on the 20. Westminster was back in Juniata territory early in the second quarter after Bill Heatley intercepted Everhart's pass on Westminster's 47. Vensel cut off tackle to the 44 but Juniata took the ball on their own 40 on downs.

Titans Nearly Score
On the next play, Grote tried to pass but the ball sailed into the arms of Park Glass, Titan center, on Juniata's 35 and he advanced to the 32. In two tries, McDaniels made it first down on the 21. Vensel picked up one and Demoisie cracked through to the 14. McDaniels picked up four and then Demoisie went through to the eight for a first down. Demoisie was stopped, and two passes failed. Hope carried the ball to the yard mark on an end around but Juniata took over. It was then that Demoisie carried the kickoff to the nine, paying the way for Westminster's score.

Plenty Of Fumbles

Both teams suffered an epidemic of fumbles after Juniata tied the count in the third quarter. Midway in the period, Vensel, Westminster, fumbled on his own 44 with Wolfenbarger recovering. A minute later, Sherry, Juniata fumbled with Taylor, Westminster recovering on Westminster's 44.

Dick Newton, Westminster half-back, was the key figure in two sensational fourth period plays. He took Everhart's kick on his own 21 and danced along the sideline to Juniata's 46 before he was hauled down. On the last play of the game, Everhart intercepted McDaniels' pass on the 50 and carried it to the Westminster's 44.

Demoisie, Westminster's backfield mainpring, suffered a broken finger in the second quarter. He was back in action for a few minutes of the third quarter but had to be taken out.

New Castle And Farrell Will Battle At Stadium Friday Under Arcs

Earl McKenzie, ticket manager at New Castle High school, today made the announcement that reserved seats tickets for the New Castle-Farrell game Friday at the stadium will go on sale Tuesday at the Sporting Goods store at 9 o'clock.

The same situation will prevail only two tickets will be sold to a customer, McKenzie stated, in order that there will be a wider distribution of tickets.

Resume Practice
Meanwhile New Castle High returned to the practice field today to get ready for the Farrell High Night Riders and will strive to win their third game of the season.

New Castle came out of the Altoona battle with no apparent injuries and will be at full strength for the Farrellites.

Shenango High Loses 29-0 To Hopewell Team

Valley Eleven Takes Advantage Of Breaks To Wallop Wildcats Saturday

(Special To The News)
ALQUIPPA, Oct. 5—Taking advantage of Shenango High's bad breaks and erratic judgement, a powerful Hopewell Township eleven continued unbeaten here Saturday, 29-0, before a fair crowd in the Aliquippa High stadium.

Cur down emphatically when they tried to pierce the Shenango line, the home team went into the air, and almost passed the visitors' out of the stadium with their accurate heaves. Ozone tosses accounted for three of the tallies, with the third added on a plunge from the 1-yard stripe. A safety thrown in gave the Vikings their total.

Block Point For Safety
Hopewell entered the scoring column in the second canto when calasse, rangy end, blocked Julian Owek's punt and the Shenango tackle fell on it giving the locals two points.

Shortly thereafter a Wildcat fumble gave the Vikings the oval on the Shenango 46 before a pass, Hummell to Vallesse, with a subsequent lateral to Belich, a half-back, covered the distance to the final stripe for the first touchdown. In the third quarter Shenango attempted an aerial deep in their own territory and it was picked off on the 20. A steady drive took the leather to the 1 where Muslin, the quarterback, sneaked over for the second tally. The score was 16-0.

Pass For Two More
Hopewell kept up their relentless passing attack in the final frame. From the Shenango 26, another toss, D. Petro to Hummell, was good for the third score. Later in the same period, Hummell whipped one to Vallesse from the 12 to click again, and end the scoring for the afternoon.

Although the Wildcats were shellacked, Coach Eddie Nahas and his aides were pleased with the stiff line defense the team displayed and the blocking in the forward wall was improved. Standing out in the defeat were Don Mayberry, end, Ronny Johns, at tackle, and Wes Fombelle in the backfield.

Poor Punting
Had the Shenango signal-callers used a little more judgement in their play selection, the score may have been somewhat different. Passing deep in their own backyard gave the locals too many scoring opportunities and being the alert team they are, the Vikings took advantage of them.

Next Friday afternoon the Wildcats will be away against the strong Evans City team, which has won three games, and lost to Ford City, 12-5, a Class A school.

Two of the most widely traveled football scouts in the country this fall will be Jerry Nert and Frank Bukowski. Villanova College assistant coaches who handle the scouting duties.

ONE who is not a British subject must have a weapon permit to have a shotgun or rifle in his possession in Canada. Visiting sportsmen should apply without delay after entering Canada for such permit which is issued under the authority of the attorney-general of the province in which the firearm is to be carried. No permits will be granted for automatic firearms, but autoloading weapons is prohibited. Sportsmen must procure a hunting license for the province in which they intend to hunt. Ward Helm, who will leave soon to bag pheasants in South Dakota, told Helm reports he saw a black panther on the outskirts of Warren, Pa. His mother also reported having heard the scream of a panther at night. Allegheny College will have a home-coming October 19. Night football in Greenville was predicted as the school board authorized negotiations for the purchase of a 21-acre tract to provide a lighted athletic field.

During the summer season at Farrell, Al Wolgast, former amateur boxer, trained and handled Derby Brennan, 118, Mike Carline, 146, Bill London, 160, Mike Durbak, 140 and Fred Collier, 118. The six won a total of 25 fights (six by knockout) and sustained seven defeats on an average of 7:31 for the stable. Durbak boxed here several times. Bill McKechie, who moved from the management of the Reds to a coach-ship with the Indians terms his new job "ideal".

Bob Lamore and Adolf Lang will leave for South Dakota's pheasant country in about a week. Paul McKee, ex-Marine officer of Beaver Falls is left end at Syracuse. Fox, city roaster, today reported that he will place under arrest anyone caught poaching in Gaston or Cunningham park. Hunting is also forbidden in other city parks, he stated.

Tommy Jones, police lieutenant, told Here & There yesterday that he recalls The Acorns of the South Side, a baseball team that existed prior to the famous Terrace. He said they played about 40 years ago when Dave Riley was age 7. He was the youngest member of the team which in age, averaged 12. Other members were Johnny Jones, the city's assistant electrician and Jim Phillips who lost his life in World War I since then Dave has played and umpired. Harry Elwell, whom Pat Hennessy has named "Be Quiet, Harry" remarks that, "when Henry Ford took the knocks out of his first cars, Joe Louis, the Detroit Bomber, put them in his boxing gloves." There'll be a tough game when St. Joseph and St. Mary football team clash Saturday morning at Union High field. Incidentally, J. Sansone is the first to run back a kick-off, the length of the field, to a touchdown, in this district.

Charlie McCracken, well versed in horsemanship, is with a local lumber concern. Charlie can remember when it was no feat whatsoever to catch a half dozen big bass in the Slippery Rock. One of the brainiest of baseball and compilers of statistics hereabouts is Jim Martin of Bensenville. Ralph Simpson, formerly of Pulaski, who years ago played tennis there, is now hoteling in Florida. Willis McMullen reports seeing a dismembered 4 1/2 pound bass out of Conneaut Lake, Thursday. Frank Johnston opines that there'll not be good hunting until the fox are killed off. He is a former game protector. Chuck Tanner and Bob Van Eman upheld this city's prestige on foreign ball fields this season. If recollection serves accurately, Bill Henle once was a member of Jimmie Dime's stables.

Indications point to the New Castle Boosters club becoming one of the most valuable organizations in this city. They're being organized to put over movements beneficial to the young and old. It will prove beneficial to the city. Sid Wise reports this is the time of year when turtle and frogs start moving from creeks. They travel a cross roads into fields filled with leaves and prepare for the long sleep" he explained. Catfish were stocked today in the Slippery Rock, Neshannock and cement dam. Sugar Bill Robinson has been matched to box Artie Levine who recently boxed Harold Green, in Cleveland, October 28. Colored boys are spotlighting in pugilism, football, and may in a few years do likewise in the majors as Joe Louis, Sugar Robinson, Buddy Young, Levi Jackson and Jack Robinson show.

New Castle's Semi-Pro Grid Team Opens Season With 6 To 0 Win

BATTLE ALLIANCE HERE NEXT SUNDAY

New Castle's big semi-pro football team, known as the Wabash Bears of Mahoningtown, opened their 1946 season after several delays Sunday at Youngstown, O., by defeating Scher Tailors 6 to 0 at Evans Field with over 2,000 fans looking on.

Elkin Brothers the Big Bears fullback tallied the only marker in the battle in the third period on a Statue of Liberty play, racing 30 yards to cross pay dirt. The Bears had 10 first downs to two for the Ohioans, outplaying the Tailors in every department.

Play Alliance Sunday
The Bears entire line played a great brand of football, with Armand Lauro and Brothers best in the Bears backfield. The Bears are coached by "Blackie" Adamo, former New Castle High star.

President of the Bears club, William Dorensnik, announced that the Wabash Bears will play the strong Alliance, O. Stars at the E. & A. field next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Canco Golfers Banquet Tonight

Championship Robin Team Will Be Honored As League Prepares Banquet

Tonight is the night that the American Can Company golfers will have their big banquet at a Butler road cafe and honor the championship Robin team, the 1946 winners of the league that played at Castle Hills. The dinner will get under way at 6:30 o'clock.

There will be lots of good natured "ribbing" tonight as the honors go to the team captured by Jerry Adams. The Hawks were the runner-up. The Robins had a fine team and are deserving of the championship that is theirs in the first American Can league of its kind.

SCOTT BREAKS 25 STRAIGHT AT TRAP

More than 1,000 persons attended the annual Field day of the Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen held Saturday at the Harbor. It was the first time Field day was staged there.

Tuesday was featured by ideal weather for the spectators. Excellent shooting prevailed and the dog events were good. There was superb fly and bait casting and an attractive display of old guns and revolvers.

In the trap shoot, George Scott broke 25 for 25 clay pigeons and in the rifle shoot, Wilbur Thomas will have chicken for the next three days, having won three.

Jesse Moore captured the high-powered rifle event and Mr. Galbreath of Ravenna carried off the slow fire pistol match high and gate awards were made to A. E. McKinney, R. D. F. W. Grudecor, this city and Earl Graham, Elwood City. A pointer, Pop's Pick owned by J. C. Kileg, Mr. Jackson, captured the bird dog event. Major's Captain, a setter, owned by Dr. L. A. Wygant, was second and Tinker, a setter, owned by Don Waters, took third place.

Thornton Allen displayed a number of old guns and Fred Reutz displayed several ancient revolvers. At various times during the afternoon both the guns and revolvers were fired at marks.

A list of events and the results, compiled by officials follow:

Gun Events
Trap: First, George Scott, 25 straight; second, Jim Petterson, 24; third, Dr. Allen and Collier, tie with 23. Shot: First, Moore, 22; second, Bob Lamore, 21; and third, Bates and McCormack, 20. Heavy Rodger, chairman.

Homer By York In Tenth Beats Cards

Howie Pollet Victim Of Tenth Inning Clout After Pitching Great Game

St. Louis Fans Refuse To Give Up, Will Pack Sportsman Park

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—It was the pallid, obscene dawn of a new day and people of very strong principles again were standing forlornly today at the gates of Sportsmen's Park. They were keeping their trust with streptococcus and all that now was mortal of the St. Louis Cardinals.

For many it wasn't just a brisk, frivolous 24-hour vigil. Quite a few, in fact, had drawn a bye on the first game of the 1946 world series between the Cardinals and the Boston Red Sox and were waiting for the second at 1:30 o'clock (CST) today.

As an expression of loyalty in what appeared a lost cause, it was all rather magnificent but a little unkind on the feet. It remained, however, for some of yesterday's deflated 36,218 attendees to vouchsafe the greater token of faith and esteem.

York Wins Game
They watched from the bleachers while the Cards lost by the grace of flippant chance and a home run by Rudy York in the tenth inning. 3-2. Then some 100 of them are reported to have walked out and got in line again for today.

Besides, all outward testimony pointed to this being the last appearance of the discomfited Cards at Sportsman's Park this year—and to be there would come under the head of paying their final respects. It might be simpler, though, just to set to and remorselessly beat yourself over the head with a belying pin.

Bank on Brecheen
Brecheen, of course, might turn the whole situation around with one of his better performances today. Anything, in fact, seemed possible in connection with a Boston club which could fall to win for a man who pitched as Tex Hughson did yesterday, and indeed leave him feeling he was dangled lucky not to be charged with a defeat.

He clearly possessed more in his repertoire than Pollet, and had a considerably easier batting order to beat. But, so debonaire were the Sox that, except for two breaks, he'd have finished behind a 1-0 defeat in nine innings.

COOL AND CLOUDY
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Cool weather and partly cloudy skies were forecast for today's second game of the 1946 world series.

Contend Durocher Best Manager In Major Loops

Durocher Even Thinks So Himself, Could Manage Yanks If He Desired

By CASWELL ADAMS
(Central Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Leo Durocher says he wants to be manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers "till I die."

Before departing by plane for St. Louis to watch the Cardinals against the Boston Red Sox, and as a result of the cause of the Red Sox as he had been in the lost cause of the Dodgers, Leo picks the Cards to whip the American League entry. But he pauses gently to mention that "My Dodgers were real champions."

Will Stick With Bums
"And look here, I must talk today about my fellows. I never expected them to get as far as they did. But, they did it. Guys with guts. Guys I respect. Fellows I like a lot. I'll see them all in Havana next spring and we'll pick a winner out of the mob."

"Larry McPhail, of the Yankees here in New York, is probably my greatest friend. I know he wants me to manage the Yankees. But, although that would be a great job and MacPhail was one of the greatest bosses I ever knew, Mr. Rickey can have me as manager of the Dodgers until I die. And it will be a pleasure to work the rest of my life for Mr. Rickey."

There is no doubt in baseball circles that Durocher is the only man in active baseball equipped with sufficient baseball savvy and gambling nerve to suit MacPhail, who is looking for a manager for his Yankees. There is also no doubt that MacPhail would give his left arm to have Leo doing the guess work for Joe DiMaggio and the others come April.

Durocher Is Best
Despite the fact that Durocher lost the National League pennant to the Cardinals, there is also no doubt that Durocher is the best manager in baseball. He took a horde of bumpy-dumpty's into the final inning of the first play-off in final history and had a loyal group of fanatics ready to tear down Ebbets Field, bolt by bolt, if Howie Schultz had belted one.

Durocher, who had $65,000 for his magic will now become a radio personality. Frank Chance, as the inside track in Leo's make manners. Chase is as cute as Durocher. If Durocher ever leaves baseball per se he'll head all Crosleys.

He's the greatest thing in radio since Marconi.

Short Terms Still Open In U. S. Army

The War department has announced that although some services have discontinued short term enlistments, the Army is still accepting enlistments as short as 18 months, two years or three years.

Educational and dependency benefits will accrue for the duration of the war. Statistics show that the Army's high pay scale makes the private's pay of $75 per month the equivalent of $211.50 in civilian employment—and no income tax.

Under the new War department pamphlet 12-16 former Navy, Marine, and Coast Guard men who are qualified in certain military specialties may enlist in grade appropriate to their prior training and service if they enlist for three year period. Those interested should visit the Army recruiting station, New Castle post office, for details.

Robinson-Harris To Fight Tonight

Sugar Robinson Uncrowned Welter King Is Favored Over Bulldog

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—(INS)—While Metropolitan Pittsburgh remains virtually powerless with its utility workers' strike, two fistie dynamos will produce their own power to pound the daylight out of one another in a 10-round bout tonight at Forbes field.

The once postponed Ray (Sugar) Robinson-Ossie (Bulldog) Harris fight was definitely scheduled to take place with portable generators supplying emergency lighting.

Expect Big Crowd

Despite the transportation tie-up, a crowd of nearly 10,000 strike-weary but fight-loving fans was expected to turn out for the fracas. Robinson, uncrowned king of the welterweights, was far ahead as the pre-fight favorite. Harris, popular Pittsburgh middleweight, was expected to hold a ten-pound edge as the two meet for the first time.

Tommy Yarz, Pittsburgh's number one light-heavyweight contender will meet Johnny Clark, Robinson's stablemate, in an eight-round semi-final. Four other bouts were on the program.

Ninety-Five G.I.'s Enroll In Class At Senior High School

Registration For Other Adult Education Classes Is Open On Wednesday Night

Ninety-five veterans have signed up for the G.I. classes at Senior High school to make up high school credit each Tuesday and Thursday evening.

These men take one, two, or three classes from six until nine o'clock, and will be able to make up their credits as rapidly as they want to. Courses are English, United States history, beginning and advanced algebra, plane geometry and mathematics.

Registration for adult education classes in home economics, commercial subjects, and various shop subjects will be continued at the high school on Wednesday evening from seven until nine o'clock.

Woe Be Unto This Automobile Thief

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis reported to police Saturday that his new $5,000 Cadillac sedan had been stolen.

Louis said that he and his chauffeur, Daniel McMillan, visited friends early Saturday, leaving the black sedan parked outside the West Side building in which he made the call.

The boxer said that when they emerged, the car was gone. Detectives issued an alarm for the automobile, which bore Michigan license plates.

JAPS ATTEMPTING TO OUST BUDDHISM FROM CEMETERIES

TOKYO, Oct. 7.—(INS)—The Japanese government today took a step aimed at breaking the long-held Buddhist monopoly of Japan's cemeteries.

General MacArthur's headquarters announced that the government has authorized construction of new and public cemeteries for the first time in more than 60 years.

The Buddhists since 1884 have controlled 90 per cent of Japan's burial grounds. Other religious sects were forbidden to build their own cemeteries because of laws which prohibited construction of new burial grounds or expansion of old ones.

In the projected public cemeteries sections will be marked off for each religious group.

STOCK MARKET

IS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Stocks continued to follow an irregularly lower path today with trading slightly more active.

Renewed weakness in Chrysler stood out along with a sharp decline in some high-priced "thin" issues. Elsewhere price swings were fractional.

Sales in the first hour totaled 230,000 shares.

Chrysler was knocked down more than a point before noon. It sold below 85 and was within a few points of its 1946 low. General Motors, on the other hand, managed a fractional advance.

Steels eased after early firmness. Losses were held to less than 1/2 point and Youngstown scored a small net gain. Rails were mixed with a moderate gain for Pennsylvania featuring.

Some of the big losses included four points in Eastman Kodak, more than two in Dow and almost two in Allied Chemical.

Rubbers bucked the trend with minor gains. Montgomery held steady on its good sales report. American Telephone eased. In other sections modest plus and minus signs were evenly split.

Bonds and curb shares were as narrow as stocks and quiet.
